

Unilateral climate policies and carbon leakage

4-5 September 2008, Berlin

Tagungszentrum Katholische Akademie, Hannoversche Str. 5b, Berlin

The workshop is organized by Öko-Institut (Institute of Applied Ecology) and hosted and sponsored as part of a research project on the extension of the EU Emissions Trading Scheme by the Federal Environment Agency of Germany (UBA).

It intends to bring together researchers and stakeholders engaged in analysis of competitiveness distortions and carbon leakage as well as in the critical assessment of potential measures to address these issues.

Workshop Programm

4 September 2008

		Speakers
11:30 - 12:00	Registration
12:00 - 13:00	Welcome and Introduction
	Project information and aim of the Workshop	Jürgen Landgrebe, UBA Franz-Josef Schafhausen, BMU
	Carbon Leakage: Definition, Evidence, Challenges	Katja Schumacher, Öko-Institut
13:00 - 15:30	Leakage and Competitiveness: Evidence, Synergies and Trade-offs
	Quantifying potential competitiveness effects and analyzing the value chain: UK and Germany	Misato Sato, Cambridge University
	Effects from allocation schemes on competitiveness and economic welfare in the Netherlands	Sander de Bruyn, CE Delft
	Ex-post evaluation of the effects of the EU ETS on specific industrial sectors	Julia Reinaud, IEA
	Competitiveness issues in specific countries: Eastern European perspectives	Wojciech Suwala, Polish Academy of Science
	Discussant	Bart Wesselink, Ecofys
15:30 - 16:00	Coffee Break
16:00 - 17:30	Tackling Leakage under the EU ETS (1)
	Free allocation to address leakage: comparison with border adjustments and differences between output-based and capacity-based allocation	Philippe Quirion, CIRED
	Direct payments/state aid: Incentives for investment and operation without leakage	Felix Matthes, Öko-Institut
	Discussant	Andreas Löschel, ZEW
19:00 - 21:00	Workshop Dinner - Restaurant "Feuerwehrhaus"

5 September 2008

Speakers

09:00 – 10:00 Tackling Leakage under the EU ETS (2)

Sectoral agreements: a promising climate policy tool?

Sophie Galharret, IDDRI

Critical review of measures to address leakage

Susanne Dröge, SWP

Discussion

10:00 – 10:30 Coffee Break

10:30 - 12:30 Perspectives of EU trade partners

The Chinese perspective

Bernice Lee, Chatham House

US climate change and trade policies

Thomas Brewer, Georgetown University

Japanese and East Asian perspectives

Akiko Sato, former staff Institute for Global Environmental Strategies (IGES)

Discussant

Mikael Skou Andersen, DMU, Denmark

12:30 – 13:30 Wrap-Up

End of Workshop

Contact:

Carbon Leakage Workshop@oeko.de

Last minute contact: +49-170-5788985 (Katja Schumacher)